

SUMMER OF THE RAIN

© Eve Goldberg, SOCAN

Had a lot of rain this year, the most we've ever had I hear
Waters rising like a flood, turning city streets to mud

Some things you can't explain, like the summer of the rain

Lost a friend who won't be back, he's headed down that one-way track
Why he's gone I'll never know, but I had to let him go

Some things you can't explain, like the summer of the rain

*Life's a trip you can't control
Like catching lightning, it's hard to hold
Find yourself upon a train
Water rushing down the drain*

Like the summer of the rain

Water droplets falling down, soaking into fertile ground
Cool and soft upon my skin, turn my face and drink them in

Some things you can't explain, like the summer of the rain
Some things you can't explain, like the summer of the rain

BRINGING IN THE LIGHT

© Jane Lewis/Eve Goldberg, SOCAN

We are bringing in the light
We are singing through the longest night
Keep the fire burning, have faith we are returning
Returning to the light

The crescent moon curls just above the pines
The northern star is anchoring the sky
Clouds are slowly lifting, snow is faintly drifting
And the fields are dressed in icy shades of white

We are bringing in the light
We are singing through the longest night
Keep the fire burning, have faith we are returning
Returning to the light

Light a fire and let the smoke rise through the trees
Light a candle in an ancient prayer for peace
We will sing in celebration, this hymn of invitation
To awaken from our silent winter sleep

We are bringing in the light
We are singing through the longest night
Keep the fire burning, have faith we are returning
Returning to the light (the glorious light, the glorious light)

When it seems we've been forsaken by the sun
And our journey through the dark goes on and on Stand still for a moment, the spell of night is broken
And the darkest hour surrenders to the dawn

We are bringing in the light
We are singing through the longest night
Keep the fire burning, have faith we are returning
Returning to the light (the glorious light, the glorious light)
Keep the fire burning, have faith we are returning
Returning to the light (the glorious light, the glorious light)
We are bringing in the light

NOTHING BUT A BROKEN HEART

© Eve Goldberg/Jane Lewis, SOCAN

You win some, you lose some
Some rain must fall some day
Some of the parts are somewhat broken
And words just get in the way

Some will say it's all for the best
When everything falls apart
Sometimes all you get
Is nothing but a broken heart

All at once it's an all-out war
An all-star all-around fight
All I ask is a bit of kindness
'Cause we could still come out all right

Some will say it's all for the best
When everything falls apart
Sometimes all you get
Is nothing but a broken heart

So thanks for nothing, I had nothing to lose
On this double or nothing bet
Nothing is certain in this good-for-nothing world
And we ain't seen nothing yet

Some will say it's all for the best, when everything falls apart
Sometimes all you get is nothing but a broken heart
Sometimes all you get is nothing but a broken heart

FEATHERS & WINGS

© Jane Lewis/Eve Goldberg, SOCAN

I've got a feather but I don't have wings
I've got a heart but I've got no strings
I've got sky but I don't have blue
And I've got to find a way to fly home to you

Oh... I'm lost I'm found
What may go, will come around
And if my love is true
I will be coming home to you

I've got clouds but I don't have rain
I've got scars but I feel no pain
I've got shadows but I don't have night
And I'm gonna find a way to make things right

Oh... I'm lost I'm found
What may go, will come around
And if my love is true
I will be coming home to you

I've got water but my well is dry
And I've got tears I'll never cry
I've got a river but I don't have the sea
But the tide is turning you back to me

Oh... I'm lost I'm found
What may go, will come around
And if my love is true
I will be coming home to

You are home to me I don't need every little thing

Oh...I'm lost I'm found
And I may go, but I'll come around
Yes, my love is true
And I am coming home to you
I'm lost I'm found
And I may go, but I'll come around
Yes, my love is true
And I am coming home to you

SIXTEEN CROSSES

© Jane Lewis, SOCAN

Sixteen crosses on the side of the road
Sixteen crows in the pine trees
Sixteen souls I've got to carry on home
But I've left my wings behind me

I'm a shepherd, I'm a thief
I am a pilgrim on the trail of grief
Ten thousand years, been no relief
Lord I'm getting weary

Two men staring at the noonday sun
Two vultures circling the sky
Two souls waiting for a saviour to come
But I feel too weighed down to fly

I'm a shepherd, I'm a thief
I am a pilgrim on the trail of grief
Ten thousand years, been no relief
Lord I'm getting weary

Ten girls playing in a schoolyard game
Ten men who are stronger
Ten mothers wail, and ten fathers rage
I can't bear witness any longer

I'm a shepherd, I'm a thief
I am a pilgrim on the trail of grief
Ten thousand years, been no relief
Oh I'm a shepherd, I'm a thief
I am a pilgrim on the trail of grief
Ten thousand years, been no relief
Lord I'm getting weary
Lord I'm getting weary
Lord I'm getting weary

CAN YOU FEEL THE LOVE

© Eve Goldberg, SOCAN

Can you feel the love, can you feel the love, can you feel the love
It's a love that's gonna see you through

You're in trouble, I heard the news today
I'd like to see you, but I'm too far away
I close my eyes, I send a message to you
I send a love that's gonna see you through

Can you feel the love, can you feel the love, can you feel the love
It's a love that's gonna see you through

Heavy burdens weigh you down like a stone
You may feel forsaken, but you are not alone
Remember the love that is there for you
It's a love that's gonna see you through

Can you feel the love, can you feel the love, can you feel the love
It's a love that's gonna see you through

*When I lay me down at night, I ask the stars above
Guide us on this journey, give us just a little more love*

Can you feel the love, can you feel the love, can you feel the love
It's a love that's gonna see you through
